Racold wins Government's Energy Award 2011

Making it twice in a row- 2010 & 2011

Racold wins Government's Energy Award 2011 Making it twice in row- 2010 & 2011

We are pleased to inform that Racold Thermo Ltd has won the National Energy Conservation Award 2011 in the Electrical Storage Water Heater category. This is the second time in a row that we are winning this prestigious award, having won it in 2010 as well. The prime criteria for this award is the number of star labeled products sold, the energy efficiency achieved and improvement in energy efficiency over the previous year. Thus firmly establishing us as the most Energy Efficient Water Heater company in the country. This award is yet another addition to the long list of achievements of brand Racold, over the years. This includes being the first to introduce polypropylene body, PUF insulation, energy labeling and the digital timer in the water heater category.
